1. Introduction

If you have reached this book, you have walked far and with endurance. And we are very pleased to be able to accompany you a bit on your further journey with this volume.

You are one of the current human pioneers and yet, at the same time, you have spent a lot of time in recent years focusing on yourself. Seen from the outside, you did an excellent job during this time. Meanwhile, you yourself probably didn't realize it nearly to the same extent by actually moving.

Well, your consciousness has constantly expanded and so, at best, you now understand more or less:

- Your immensely great personal achievement in the course of this one human life.
- Your own essential size.
- Your precious abilities and their valuable effects, here, on planet Earth.

In this book, you will also discover something that is now increasingly developing: We are working together (again). You may have noticed that the first two volumes were written by Susanne. She did this alone, although in recent years we have mostly written as a team. The rest of us were a bit very busy with our own development path and some additional tasks and since the books now have to be distributed to people, it seemed right to us to let Susanne write alone.

However, together we are more, and so, we are now writing together again.

And what applies to our books, you will now increasingly experience in your own life:

- Together we multiply our strengths.
- Being on the move together supports and relieves the burden.
- Living, working and loving together keeps you in your current human life.

You are now more and more able to love, live and work together with other highly developed people and so, this will increasingly happen. In this context, however, we would like to point out possible side effects, as the vibration frequency of everyone involved increases involuntarily as soon as you begin to work together on a regular basis. If you would like to delve deeper into the topic of related side effects, the book "Old Times: Israel" that we have published will help you. However, you can also let your own inner essential self guide you into the topic, if you wish.

In this book we will deal with the aspect of “together” in the sense of natural orders. However, we’ll also deepen the topic of education in the context of natural orders. Additionally, the two focal points “natural / essential abilities” and “compensation in the energy-based sense” will also be interwoven in this book again.

A true teacher is a person that empowers other people.

And so, a true teacher can be checked and recognized at any time using the following questions:

- Has he (and his teaching and work) empowered you?
- Did he (and his teaching and work) have a positive influence on your life or even have a lasting positive change?

Our books serve to convey information. At the same time, however, they also carry the claim of (energy-based) teaching and thus want to empower you personally.

This allows you to check the usefulness of our books in a very practical way:

- Do they provide you with information important for you and your tasks?
- Do they support your empowerment?
- Do they encourage and strengthen you?
- Do they have a positive influence on your current life or even changed it in a positive way?

All our books are energy-based books. Thus, they are very different from the books, humans are used to, so far. Therefore: Please check very carefully, if this one book is the right book for you!

If this is not the case, it is worth not reading this book and we encourage you to use your time in something more meaningful to you.

However, if you can answer the questions with a happy “yes” or if you are reading one of our books for the first time and know inside, that you need it for yourself and your tasks and that you will be able to answer the questions above with a clear “yes” at the end of the book, we are happy to be able to travel with you a part of your personal path!

“We” are in this book:

Susanne Edelmann / Lady Nayla Og-Min, Lord
Luca / Lord St. Germain, Lord Ben Joseph, Lady
Serena

May the book enrich you! You personally!

Warm regards

Susanne Edelmann, Lord Luca, Lord Ben Josef,
Lady Serena

1.1 Together

At this point, we would like to remind you of an energy-based law that every person is subject to as soon as they have a certain holistic (high) vibration frequency.

You are then able to interact energy-based with other beings and people, when you have sustainably mastered your own human tasks and stable control over your own materially based human life.

Many people are currently refusing (sometimes unconsciously) from their personal human tasks and instead focusing on their outside world, anesthetizing themselves with the digital world or successfully entangling themselves in many unfavorable beliefs. Beliefs that permanently block them. Many times, over several years. From an energy-based perspective, however, you are only capable of global collaboration (and thereby carrying out your essential tasks) once you have successfully mastered the material-based human level and thus are able to lead an independent and self-responsible human life.

This means:

- You take complete responsibility for your thoughts, your speech, your actions and every single aspect of your current human life.
- In doing so, you will permanently free yourself from the human construct of “perpetrator – victim – rescuer”.
- You are a natural and valuable part of human material-based society and move there safely and successfully.
- You eat well, healthy and adequately and finance yourself independently.
- You consciously use the energy-based laws for the benefit of a fulfilled human life.

From an energy-based point of view, you cannot live and work together (globally) as long as you have not mastered your own (human) life safely and as a result you live in unpleasant impositions, cultivate unhealthy behavior, harm yourself, are not able to finance yourself safely and abundantly and you don't have a firm grip on your actions, your emotions and your thoughts.

Currently, far too few people are aware of how important the tasks described are.

Very often, even highly developed people are not aware of how important this primary task of a completely independent and mastered human life is, and they (typically humanly imposed) walk through their own everyday human life with blind spots. And if you like, consciously allow yourself to see and grasp what has not yet been completely cleared up in your own life. This is your first and most important task in the area of energy-based joint work, which you have to solve sustainably.

If you are not successful in this task and at the same time, repeatedly try to work energy-based together, you will fail repeatedly. And so, please take the lines you have just read very seriously and consciously allow yourself to know for sure within yourself whether you still have a task to solve in the area described.

Regular collaboration between highly developed people has an involuntary effect on the respective environment:

- Topics and stories that are allowed to dissolve come to light and need to be consciously looked at and processed again. At best, this also happens with the respective highly developed people themselves. Something that carries with it the danger of projection and unconscious acting out. And we really ask that you consider this aspect very consciously. Until you have mastered it sustainably. Otherwise, you will have to travel alone for a while again.
- It becomes “dynamic” and restless in the respective setting (team, company, region, etc.). And so, you have to be able to be (and act) calmly and stably at all times, not to relate what you experience to yourself, to grasp what is happening continuously from an energy-based perspective and to shape it positively even in the greatest negativity. And the same applies here: If you are not yet able to do this sufficiently, you have to take a few steps back on your personal development path. Back to somewhat quieter areas and a little less contact with other highly developed people.

- The pace of the respective personal development processes increases. This also applies to your own process. And so, you have to be able to handle high speeds. Sometimes very fast paced, to be honest.

In order to be able to work energy-based together with other highly developed people in the long term, you must have cleansed and solved sustainably within yourself, as everything will come to light as soon as you work together on a regular basis.

At the same time, however, it also supports you if you are always aware of this fact. Your human self is still with you. It has certain images, certain wishes, ideas and needs. Also, in the area of living together, “loving together” and working together. And so, your gaze is naturally often “typically human”. However, your holistic being has changed levels and as a result the focus of your being is on completely different points than before. You continually go through clarification tasks. In your own holistic system and in human society. At the same time, you continuously support clarification tasks. With your fellow human beings, in teams and systems, companies, regions and countries.

This creates a lot of unrest in and around you. Naturally.

Restlessness that does good things in the long term but requires (holistic) strength and stabilization tasks in the short term. It will help you if you are not only aware of this and continually stabilize yourself, but also very consciously allow yourself to have enough regeneration opportunities and consciously use them. You work hard and therefore you need appropriate breaks and opportunities for regeneration. Consciously allow and accept what is given to you in this regard.

Incidentally, regeneration options (with all the additional gifts they contain) belong to the “compensation section” during a longer phase of your journey. The human self does not always recognize (and acknowledge) this and sometimes even feels punished or neglected due to the repeated standstill in practical life. Appropriate awareness and appropriate recognition are helpful here. Allow yourself to realize fully. If this is the case, it will be calm and safe within yourself.

Effective regeneration usually ideally takes place at home. Here you can sleep freely, rest, walk, eat whatever is good for you here and now, etc. However, people do not necessarily rate this form of relaxation as valuable. In the human environment, a vacation in the Maldives or wellness in a five-star hotel is necessary for the regeneration time to have a certain value. Energy-based, however, happens differently. Here you get what serves you most effectively and if you are aware and observe you will recognize that this becomes your new mode of life at a certain state of consciousness.

Your work together is long-term and so, it is important to consciously deal with what happens on an energy-based level when highly developed people begin to work together consciously and in the long term. The corresponding effects (repeated unrest externally and internally, intense, sometimes painful personal processes, the slow but steady dissolution of life-threatening structures, etc.) are not child's play and must be handled in a beneficial way so that you can continue to work together. It will help you if you very consciously perceive things from an energy-based perspective, very consciously not allow yourself to get involved in any human dramas and continually seek the guidance of your own inner essential self.

For this, too, you need repeated peace and time and so you can at best understand why everything repeatedly stands still, outside you, only partially developing, what you have been carrying inside you for a long time, slipping away from you, what was actually clear, instead you are sitting in your own space and internally you work and process one topic after the other. From a purely human perspective, these times may be unspectacular. However, if you expand your perception, you will easily be able to see how enormously important and meaningful these phases are. For yourself, for your environment and for your work.

Over time, the phases in which you are at your full natural size will increase. You live your abilities. Yet, you live it effortlessly. You then, hardly need breaks, and you achieve what most of your fellow human beings cannot achieve. In these phases you recognize the success of the strenuous months and years described. The clarifying tasks strengthen you, your essential size and your essential abilities. They can now take up more and more space and this is increasingly visible outside.

If you are in the middle of the strenuous clarification tasks, you can cognitively understand what you have just read. Yet, it usually feels miles away. At the same time, there is also an inner part that understands, grasps and knows. And we encourage you to consciously strengthen this part. The process you go through is not an easy one. However, it is worth it in many ways. Also, for you personally. And the more aware you are of this, the easier it will be for you to get through the stressful times.

If you are at a certain (high) level of development and awareness, it is very worthwhile to no longer view or even classify your life and everything that you continually encounter in purely human-material terms. At the same time, this is exactly what the temptation is, because you still live as a completely normal person in the middle of human society. A challenge that needs to be grasped and handled beneficial.

If you are irritated or uncomfortable, change the level of your perspective.

A person can live and work alone, but he will not be happy this way, in the long term. In recent years, highly developed people have repeatedly been alone for their own protection. As a result, they were able to concentrate with all their strength on their own process of becoming conscious and thus go through it successfully more quickly. However, these quiet, "lonely and withdrawn" phases were not necessarily easy to endure. We are very aware of this.

Now, many of the people described have a deep longing to finally no longer have to walk through life alone. They long to live and work together with people who are just like them. To be able to
